SUBSCRIPTION $2.00 PER YEAR

BAY ST. LOUIS, MISS., FRIDAY, APRIL 27, 1951

VOL. 60 — No. 18

Observations..

By the Editor

May 5, 1951, will be a red letter day in the history of the Parish of Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church when Lacy A. Green Jr., will be ordained to the Holy Priesthood. This young man will be the second one in the Parish to be ordained. The late Most Reverend Leo F. Fahey, was the first native son to become a priest, and his ordination was held on May 28, 1926, twenty-five years ago. Later, Reverend Father Maxine Williams, of St. Rose de Lima Parish, was ordained a priest, a member of the Society of the Divine Word; he is presently stationed in the Diocese of Lafayette, Louisiana. With this ordination, Bay St. Louis will have had three young men to enter the priesthood during the last twenty-five years. Most Reverend Richard O. Gerow, Bishop of Natchez, will be the ordaining Prelate; he also ordained Bishop Fahey and Father Williams.

Today, Friday, April 27, is Coffee Day in Bay St. Louis. Coffee will be sold at Hotel Reed, Manier's Cafe, Sunshine-Ice Cream Parlor, Coast Electric, Wilmer's Grocery, Scharf's Jitney-Jungle, Kraft's Anchorage, Ray's Drive In, Avenue Restaurant and Tapan's Restaurant, and the proceeds will go to the benefit of the Cancer Fund Drive. These folks, particularly in the restaurants, are to be commended for their action in turning over the revenue from coffee sales to this worthy cause. Just a word to all you coffee drinkers... make sure you take on a heavy load Friday.

A. C. Mitchell, Clerk of Courts and County Registrar of Voters is nearing the completion of his tour of the various precincts of the County, registering voters. HAVE YOU REGISTERED? If not, you had better do so. The expiration date for registering, in order to be a qualified elector in the primary election to be held in August, is July 6. You should be interested in the political affairs of your county, and certainly you cannot express a voice in these matters if you are not a qualified elector. Just a word to the young folks who are reaching the age of 21. You know, if you become 21 years of age before November 6, 1951, you can register and vote in the primary election in August. November 6, is general election day in Mississippi, and the law bases your age requirements on the general election date. Check up, you may have thought it was necessary that you be 21 before the August Primary. If so, get over to the Clerk's office and register. And then all you need is your poll tax exemption certificate.

Our young friends, Natalie and Jimmie Ryan, have received another little bundle from heaven, in the person of Patrick Joseph Ryan, their third child and second son. Jimmie depicts "Irish Eyes Are Smiling" when he tells you about it, and does the name tell you that he is proud of that Irish lineage. Don't ask the other son's name, just guess. Of course, it's Michael.

Senator Byrd of Virginia says that the federal budget can be cut $7,000,000,000.00. What a tremendous figure... it is hard for the average person to think in such sums, but it is nothing unusual for the boys in Washington. It is about time for some one to use the paring knife. All they seem to think of up there is how much they can spend, and never seem to give a darn for what purpose it is spent. Just a few days ago we read an article which stated that the office of price stabilization, which has only recently been recreated, had spent $1,250,000.00 for furniture and office fixtures. The chairs were all leather upholstered... frankly we think some of these fellows would not adorn an old time apple crate. Spending of this type is what is bending our backs with taxation, and killing the incentive to earn. Yes, the American Way of Life is on its way out if some of its stalwart defenders does not hurriedly come to its rescue. Write your Senators and your Congressmen what you think about it. Hearing from you will give them an idea of how their people feel.

Bourgeois Withdraws From Constable Race

Several weeks ago I announced that I would be a candidate for the office of Constable Beat Five, Hancock County. At that time I was employed away from home, I intended becoming a candidate, and feeling that if elected it would allow me to make a living and be at home with my family. Since that time, I have been employed by the State Highway Department as a tender for the fire boat on the Bay St. Louis bridge; and of course, one of the rules of the department governing their employees is that they cannot actively participate in an election as a candidate. For this reason it becomes necessary for me to withdraw my announced candidacy for the office of constable. I want to thank my many friends who so generously offered me their support, and assure them that I am grateful, and I feel certain they will understand and agree that the course I am pursuing is probably best.

Respectfully,
CHESTER BOURGEOIS

Episcopal Vestrymen Purchase Sellers' Property

To Be Used As Rectory, School

The Christ Church Episcopal vestrymen have purchased the property, at 912 South Beach, owned and occupied by Dr. and Mrs. Thomas Benton Sellers. They will take over about July 1.

The property measures 198 feet front and extends to railroad avenue in the rear.

According to the rector, Rev. C. R. Johnson, the present house will be used as a rectory, and the carriage house will be used for the Episcopal school which will add a first grade in another year. It is the plan of the Episcopalians to build a church there in the future, he added.

The property is known here as the old Henry Clay, summer home was purchased by the J. N. Wisner family and was later destroyed by fire. Mr. Wisner erected the present house and lived there until ten years ago.

Three new members have been added to the cast of "Rain" which is being prepared for production early in May by the Bay St. Louis Little Theatre, Mrs. Frank Kiefer, director, announced.

Bill Smith, who has given many valuable hours to the Theatre backstage, as well as taking active parts in several plays, will enliven the role of a happy-go-lucky Marine.

Dick Thames lends his natural good humor well to the role of another Marine, and Donald Cole, as "Quartermaster Bates," has a part to which he is giving his sincere efforts, the director added.

OTHER MEMBERS

Other members of the cast who have been studying their parts for several weeks now are Mrs. R. H. Steffel cast as Sadie Thompson; Phillip Allison who will play paradoxically, the minister; Dr. H. M. Keefe, Trader Horn with Mrs. Vicki Hill doing the part of A-mena, Polishian wife of Horn.

Mrs. Johann Craft will portray Mrs. Davidson, the minister's wife; Tom C. King as Dr. McPhail; Paul Tourné, "Handsome" O'Hara; Miss Adele Grant, Mrs. McPhail.

A GRIPPING DRAMA

Somerset Maugham's play which invites a fascinating study in different phases of human characters, remains as one of the most outstanding work ever written. Twenty years ago it was an outstanding hit, and today the script still contains a number of deep, tragic emotions which make it a gripping drama.

There will be an abundance of climatic and regional effects, aided by the sound and lighting which are being handled by C. E. Schafer.

For stirring entertainment, it will be difficult to choose an evening to equal one spent viewing "Rain". The dates of the play have been tentatively set for May 10, 11 and 12.

My decision to become a candidate for lieutenant governor was my own idea. I neither sought nor received solicitations or the political blessings of any group, clique, clan or faction.

My candidacy represents an honest and sincere desire on the part of an humble Mississippian, to be of unselfish service to a state and people that have been extraordinarily good to him.

I enter this campaign under obligations only to God, my conscience and to all the people of Mississippi whom I shall serve faithfully and courageously, if elected.

I have had to work hard for everything I have received, and it is my purpose to wage an aggressive and positive campaign throughout the state to the end that the people of Mississippi shall become acquainted with my qualifications for this important office."

Although the first class is for boys and young men, it is expected that a class for girls and ladies will be started at a later date. "It is hoped that from these classes," the Commodore continued, "we will develop expert skippers to represent our club and locality in future years."

Mrs. McDonald's Nephew Expires

W. Stephenson Cooke, 67 year old automobile dealer of Fort Worth, Texas, died at Mayo Brothers in Rochester, Minnesota. He was a nephew of Mrs. W. A. McDonald and a cousin of Rev. George Stephenson, rector of St. Peter's by the Sea Episcopal church at Gulfport.

Mr. Cooke was Scottish Rite inspector general for Texas at the time of his death. He was Masonic grand master in 1933 and 1934 and was one of 12 men holding the thirty-third degree and the post of inspector general in the Southern Jurisdiction of the Scottish Rite Masonry.

Cooke was president of the board of the Masonic Home and School in Fort Worth, a member of the national committee on Masonic Jurisprudence, a trustee of the Scottish Rite dormitory at the University of Texas, and a director of the Scottish Rite Hospital for Crippled Children.

A big afternoon was had at St. Joseph's gym last Sunday when an audience participation show was entered into with all the fun and zest to be found at a big time performance.

Dennis Tonkle as Master of Ceremonies, pleased the audience with his wise quips and genial manner. Those who participated from the audience had the time of their lives, and went home much richer than when they arrived, because the prizes they won, were worthwhile. The proceeds from the show are to be used by the St. Stanislaus Auxiliary for "replenishing uniforms for the band."

Everyone in this community is acquainted with the wonderful work of the Stanislaus band and the honors which they reap year after year for their school. Brother Romuald, who works diligently in need of encouragement from the community at large to bring the efforts of his boys before the public. Last year the parents of boys in the band formed an auxiliary to help him.

A few small things were undertaken, and several parties given for the boys. At the close of school, letters were presented to the deserving members of the band upon the recommendation of Brother Romuald.

This year, the members of the auxiliary, being more ambitious, devised this Tea Time Jubilee to raise funds to refurbish uniforms for the band. Their hard work should be duly recognized, and much credit given to those whose efforts made possible this fine afternoon of entertainment, fun and profit. To those who attended, as well as to those who worked so hard, we would like to say thanks for a magnificent job.

Entrance prizes were won by Roland Hewitt, Emerson radio; Miss Mary Moran, waffle iron; Mrs. Daisy Wentworth, electric iron; Mrs. J. K. Larsen, large Coca-Cola box; and Mrs. J. C. Breard Jr., small Coca-Cola box. Dozens of other prizes, too numerous to mention, were won by the lucky participants in the contests ranging from a bubble gum chewers for a magnificent job.

Mrs. Joseph O. Mauffray was presented an orchid for the oldest lady present; and she and Mr. Mauffray were recognized as the couple present who had been married the longest.

Meeting Held To Form Co-ordinating Council

A preliminary meeting was held Friday afternoon in the library of the Bay High School with a view to organizing a co-ordinating Council for Hancock County, as a follow up to the Mid-Century White House Conference for Children and Youth held in Washington.

Mrs. C. C. McDonald, a delegate to the Washington Conference, was asked to act as temporary chairman, and Miss Loyette Webb was named secretary. Plans were laid for a survey to be made of the progress in Hancock County in the past ten years in service for children and youth. This survey is sponsored by the League of Women Voters.

Attending the meeting were leaders in various fields and presidents of different organizations. Another meeting will be held in May. Quite a number of those present at this gathering, attended a meeting held in Hattiesburg Thursday, April 26.

J. E. (Joe) Loiacano Announces For Supervisor Beat 5

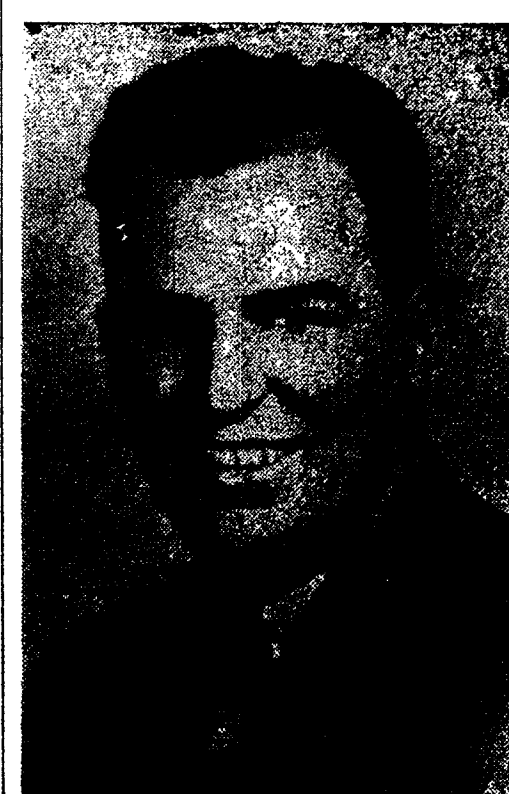

We are authorized to announce the candidacy of J. E. (Joe) Loiacano for Supervisor, Beat 5, Hancock County, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary Election to be held August 7, 1951. To The Qualified Voters Of Beat 5

In announcing my candidacy for Supervisor of Beat No. 5, I would like to make known to the people of this beat my qualifications and my reasons for seeking election.

I was born in Bay St. Louis on March 24, 1915. I graduated from Bay High School in May 1936. Immediately after my graduation, I married Miss Doris "Jim" O'Brien; and together, with limited capital, we opened a small grocery store and were gratified with our success. Later, we opened a larger more modern grocery - the A & J No. 1 - while still maintaining the original. Since then I have opened three other businesses, which are known as A & J No. 2, Jimmy's Sundry Shoppe, and Jim's Lounge. My success in business is proof of my qualifications.

My purpose for seeking this office is not for selfish political gains, but to see a dream realized. It has been my ambition since I first started in business to see Bay St. Louis and Waveland develop into two of the most prosperous towns on the Gulf Coast. I have watched surrounding towns—even younger than ours—steadily expand and make progress, while our own local towns seemed to be at a standstill.

During my business career I have done what I could to beautify the town. My buildings on Ne-caise Avenue are adequate proof. I have tried to have buildings constructed which should be a credit to the community; and while in the process of constructing them,

I employed local men and purchased all of my material from local business firms.

After much consideration I feel that it is the time for us, the business men, who have been content by sitting back and waiting for something to happen, to take an aggressive stand and represent progressive and effective leadership.

If I am elected to this office, I will, with all sincerity, do what I can for the good of our county. First, I shall seek appropriations for a County Hospital, which is so badly needed. Second, I shall try to have installed a County farm, which will truly benefit us all. Third, I will cooperate with the Legion and all those who are working for a sand beach between Bay St. Louis and Waveland and try to get this project across. Fourth, I advocate the improvement of our system of roads and bridges.

With these things firmly in mind, I seek the office of Supervisor of Beat No. 5. If we can secure these things, basically we will be on the road to progress. Think these things over; and if you, the voters, see my views as I do, together we will try for a better Hancock County.

Respectfully,
J. E. (Joe) LOIACANO

SMALL MEN HATE

Big men usually grow broader in mind as they climb higher and higher on the ladder of success; but occasionally we find one who may grow a bit narrower. A real example of the man who apparently is unable to grow with his position and who is unable to cast aside his narrow aspect on difference of opinion is President Truman. Of all people, certainly the man at the head of our national government should be broad in his views as to his fellow men; but apparently the character of the small town politician cannot be subordinated. He cannot stand for anyone to challenge his opinions or those of some of his "yes men," and when this happens his personal hate rises to great proportions.

Following his election in 1948, he gave much vent to his feelings against those who dared to oppose him, particularly his opposition from the South. In the inaugural parade, he turned his back on one of his opponents, J. Strom Thurmond, then Governor of South Carolina, and from then on used every punitive measure against our Representatives in the Congress, and particularly those from Mississippi. He has at last altered his course along these lines, which was brought about when it was discovered that the hand picked group in Mississippi representing the National Democratic Committee was really plucking the folks seeking federal appointments. His hate will undoubtedly, in due time, bring him headaches in this respect.

The climax was his failure to greet General Douglas MacArthur upon his arrival in Washington, or to even extend him an invitation to the White House. He may have been perfectly justified in relieving General MacArthur from his command. History will record the right or wrong of this question; nevertheless, this country owes much to General MacArthur. Apparently a great many people felt so, as he received great ovations in San Francisco, Washington and New York.

MacArthur is one of America's greatest War Heroes, and coming back to his native country, following fourteen years of service in the Pacific, he deserved every recognition commensurate with his rank. Certainly, the one who represents all of the American people, the President of the United States, should have been broad enough to cast aside a variance of opinion, and be on hand to greet a National Hero, instead of going to a movie.

Alas, small men hate; great men pity.

Pass Christian School Rated AA

The Mississippi Accrediting Commission officially notified the Pass Christian Public School last week that the Elementary Department has been given an AA rating for the 1950-51 session. According to Superintendent Frank L. French.

The school received a certificate of membership last month for the High School Department in the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.

"This marks the fourteenth consecutive year," said Professor French, "that both Departments have received these ratings, the highest a school can obtain."

V F W Auxiliary Installs Officers

The April meeting of the Pass Christian Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary was held Monday night, with Mrs. Pearl Niolet, retiring president, calling the meeting to order.

Mrs. Robert Hall, Department President, of Tunica, Mississippi, conducted the installation of officers for the 1951 term. The officials, who were elected at the March meeting, are as follows:

Mrs. Blanche Holcomb, president; Mrs. Edith Lozes, Senior Vice President; Mrs. Pearl Niolet, Junior Vice President; Mrs. Nola Ladner, Secretary; Mrs. Ruby Norton, Treasurer; Mrs. Catherine Griffin, Chaplain; Mrs. Ruth Gordin, Conductress; Mrs. Jean Hursey, Trustee; and Mrs. Virginia Wamborgans, Guard.

An Auxiliary past president pin was presented to Mrs. Niolet by Mrs. Holcomb, incoming president. Following the meeting, refreshments were served by Mesdames Pearl Niolet and Ruth Gordon.

The members of the organization wish to express their appreciation to the Griffons for having donated the use of their building to the V. F. W., as a meeting hall.

Mrs. Holcomb announced that an informal meeting of the Auxiliary will be held at 3:00 p.m. May 2 in the Griffon building, and all members are urged to attend to assist in formulating plans under the Auxiliary's consideration at the present time.

MY F MEETS

A sub-district meeting and election of officers of the Methodist Youth Fellowship was held April 16 at Camp Kitiwake with 200 young people attending. The Pass Christian MYF was host to the congregation, and the W. S. C. S. of Pass Christian served sandwiches, cookies and cold drinks to the youngsters.

Among the officers elected were Bill Carr, of Gulfport, president; and Miss Patsy Mathis, of Pass Christian, secretary.

The Mississippi City and Hand-boro M. Y. F. presented the devotional and the program.

The theme of the program was "If You Take The Church Out Of The Community." The thought was put across most effectively in a playette with a complete miniature village, consisting of homes, a school, businesses and a church, set up on a table.

The cast showed that without the church and its influence there remains nothing worthwhile in a village to make people want to live in it.

A large cross was mounted at one end of the room with a blue spot light shining upon it, before which was created the impression of a crooked path all in white with green ferns on either side leading to the cross. The devotional was given before this impressive scene.

At the other end of the room a log fire blazed cheerfully. As a centerpiece on the mantle above the open fireplace, a cross was formed with red lilies. Climbing ivy in red vases on either end of the mantle and banked ferns completed the lovely altar arrangement.

Huge baskets suspended from the rafter beams on either side of the wall added much to the decorations which were achieved by Mrs. O. B. Reid, of the Pass Christian W. S. C. S.

P-T. A. MEETS

The Parents Teachers Association of the Pass Christian High School held its last evening meeting of the 1951 school year last Thursday in the High School Auditorium.

An excellent symposium, whose subject was "Building Our Community," was presented.

Rev. W. S. Allen opened the meeting with a prayer. C. Randall Jones acted as moderator, and members of the panel were Floyd Brainard, representing the rotary; Thomas B. McDonald, Chamber of Commerce; W. Van Landingham, Education; and Dr. Willis G. Clark, Spiritual.

Rev. Willis Clark spoke on building our community from a spiritual standpoint and brought out the thought that each individual must really live his soul and co-operate in the spirit of brotherly love so that friendliness and goodness will permeate throughout the community.

Mr. Brainard talked on the four way test of the Rotary Club, stating that a person could not go wrong if he would test himself by this measure before acting. Mr. Brainard is presenting copies of the four-way test to the P-T-A. to be distributed. The test is as follows:

1. Is It The Truth?
2. Is It Fair To All Concerned?
3. Will It Build Good Will And Better Friendships?
4. Will It Be Beneficial To All Concerned?

Mr. McDonald urged the merchants and citizens to actively enter into the Chamber of Commerce work, so that new industries might be brought to the town, and to help sell Pass Christian.

Mr. Van Landingham told how, through education communism can be beaten in each small community and thereby every citizen will do his bit towards wiping it out throughout the world. In building the community through education in Pass Schools, Mr. Van Landingham stressed the need for the commercial teacher to be able to devote more time with her typing and commercial subject rather than carrying other classes, too, thus enabling the students to be better prepared to earn a living upon High School graduation. There is much to be considered in equipping a pupil with a means of livelihood upon completing the High School Course because of the great number of graduates who do not enter college and must compete in the world of trade and business with a high school education.

Rand Jones summed up each talk and asked questions on points pertinent to Pass Christian.

One of the interesting points brought out was the fact that there are 14 organizations in town necessitating many members belonging to two or more groups. It was stated that there are "Too many organizations and too few active members." Mr. Jones especially urged that fathers take a greater interest, and more active part, in the young people who will be leaders in the near future. They need cooperation of their teachers and parents - both parents.

A motion was made to ascertain signs to place, warning guests, visitors and summer residents about the channel where the dredge has pumped for the sand beach. Visitors are accustomed to swimming out farther than the new channel; and in order to avert and prevent any serious accidents to mar the pleasure of the new sand beach, various organizations will see that proper warnings are posted.

Mrs. William Kalif made a report on the Womanless Wedding, which brought in $123.00. Mrs. Kalif stated that she would replace the funds that were stolen from her safe when her Grocery Store was robbed.

Following the meeting, refreshments were served by Mrs. Donald Demetz, chairman of the hospitality committee, and Mesdames Robert Demetz, Ruby Lively, Mamie McDonald, Ruth Mathis, and Margaret Kalif, hostesses.

ROTARY DINNER

The regular business meeting of the Pass Christian Rotary Club was dispensed with Tuesday when they met in the Home Economics Department of the Pass Christian Public School.

The Home Economics class prepared the dinner and served the visiting Rotarians, who are feted with this affair each Spring.

Supt. Frank L. French introduced the Rotarians and Miss Money, instructor of the Home Economics Department, introduced her pupils who had helped in the preparations for the dinner party.

Dr. C. D. Taylor, Jr., president, presided over the meeting.

Visiting Rotarians were Ben Hille and Arthur Chapman, president-elect of the Bay St. Louis Rotary, both of Bay St. Louis.

High School Rotarians attending were Jimmie Brownlee, of Pass HI, and Wilton Bradley, Jr., of St. Joseph's Catholic School.

Rand Jones had as his guest Oscar Burroughs of the University of Virginia.

PLAN ANNUAL PET SHOW

The fifteenth Annual Pet Show will be presented on the Lawn of Pass Christian High School, May 2, 1951, at 2:30.

The May Day Court has been arranged with Jean Adam as queen and Edward Gamard as king. A number of maids and dukes will be in the court. A short program of dances, drills, and games will be the entertainment in honor of the queen.

Pets, dolls and flowers will be exhibited. All entries should be entered by 1:00 p.m. to be judged and awarded ribbons.

Refreshments will be sold and small donations accepted.

Hue and Cry

The prevailing hue and cry is to curb inflation. Federal officials appeal to business men to halt unnecessary borrowing and spending and deliver a fatal blow to the forces of inflation.

Banks and other lending agencies are discouraged in making loans for non-productive purposes and business men are urged to cut all expenditures to the bone.

The general public is called upon to economize, buy only what it actually needs, use what it has sparingly and put its surplus cash into bank savings, life insurance or federal bonds.

The people are pressed to pay higher taxes cheerfully and accept bureaucratic controls willingly. Management, labor, farmer and consumer are spurred to produce and to cooperate by doing nothing to undermine our economy or increase the demand for goods. We are all admonished not to rock the financial boat by increasing prices and wages.

But the greatest single inflationary force in America today is extravagant government. Government is the one that should have set the good example by eliminating the non-essentials and curtailing waste; it is the one that needs to sober up from an extensive, expensive spending spree. Lavish government has become America's worst wastrel. By living beyond its means and refusing to balance its budget or pay off its war debts, it has already knocked the country into a cocked hat.

Government is our greediest consumer, greatest spender and biggest debtor. So as it demands frugality of the people, it should practice what it preaches. Then our national economy might become as sound as the American dollar was once, before loose fiscal policies and a monumental national debt produced a top-heavy prosperity and upset the people's financial applecart. There's nothing new about economy. It was always good American doctrine—economy among the people and, above all, economy by government; one is just as essential as the other, if we are to curb inflation.

The Georgia Legislature just adjourned, passed a law requiring children to give assistance to their aged parents when in need of help. Two years ago the Tennessee Legislature passed a law excusing children from giving such assistance but there was immediately such a drain put on the State Treasury that the Tennessee Legislature this time repealed that law. The Commissioner of that State says that this will mean that 20% of all of the old people now on drawing old age assistance in Tennessee will have to be removed from the pay-rolls since approximately that many have children able to give assistance needed.

The Louisiana Welfare Department, within the last few months, has removed approximately 12,000 old people from the old age assistance payroll because of lack of funds.

Murphy Speaks At Activity Meet

"The Public School system is the greatest institution that America has ever built," Dr. Forest Murphy said in an address to the Bay High Student Activity Association Thursday night at the annual banquet. "It is not my school; it is not your school; it is America's school," he added.

John Rutherford, president of the association, presided; and S. J. Ingram, superintendent of city schools, introduced Dr. Murphy. T. T. Robin gave the invocation, and Ann Hebert, high school senior, gave a reading, "The Highwayman," by Alfred Noyes.

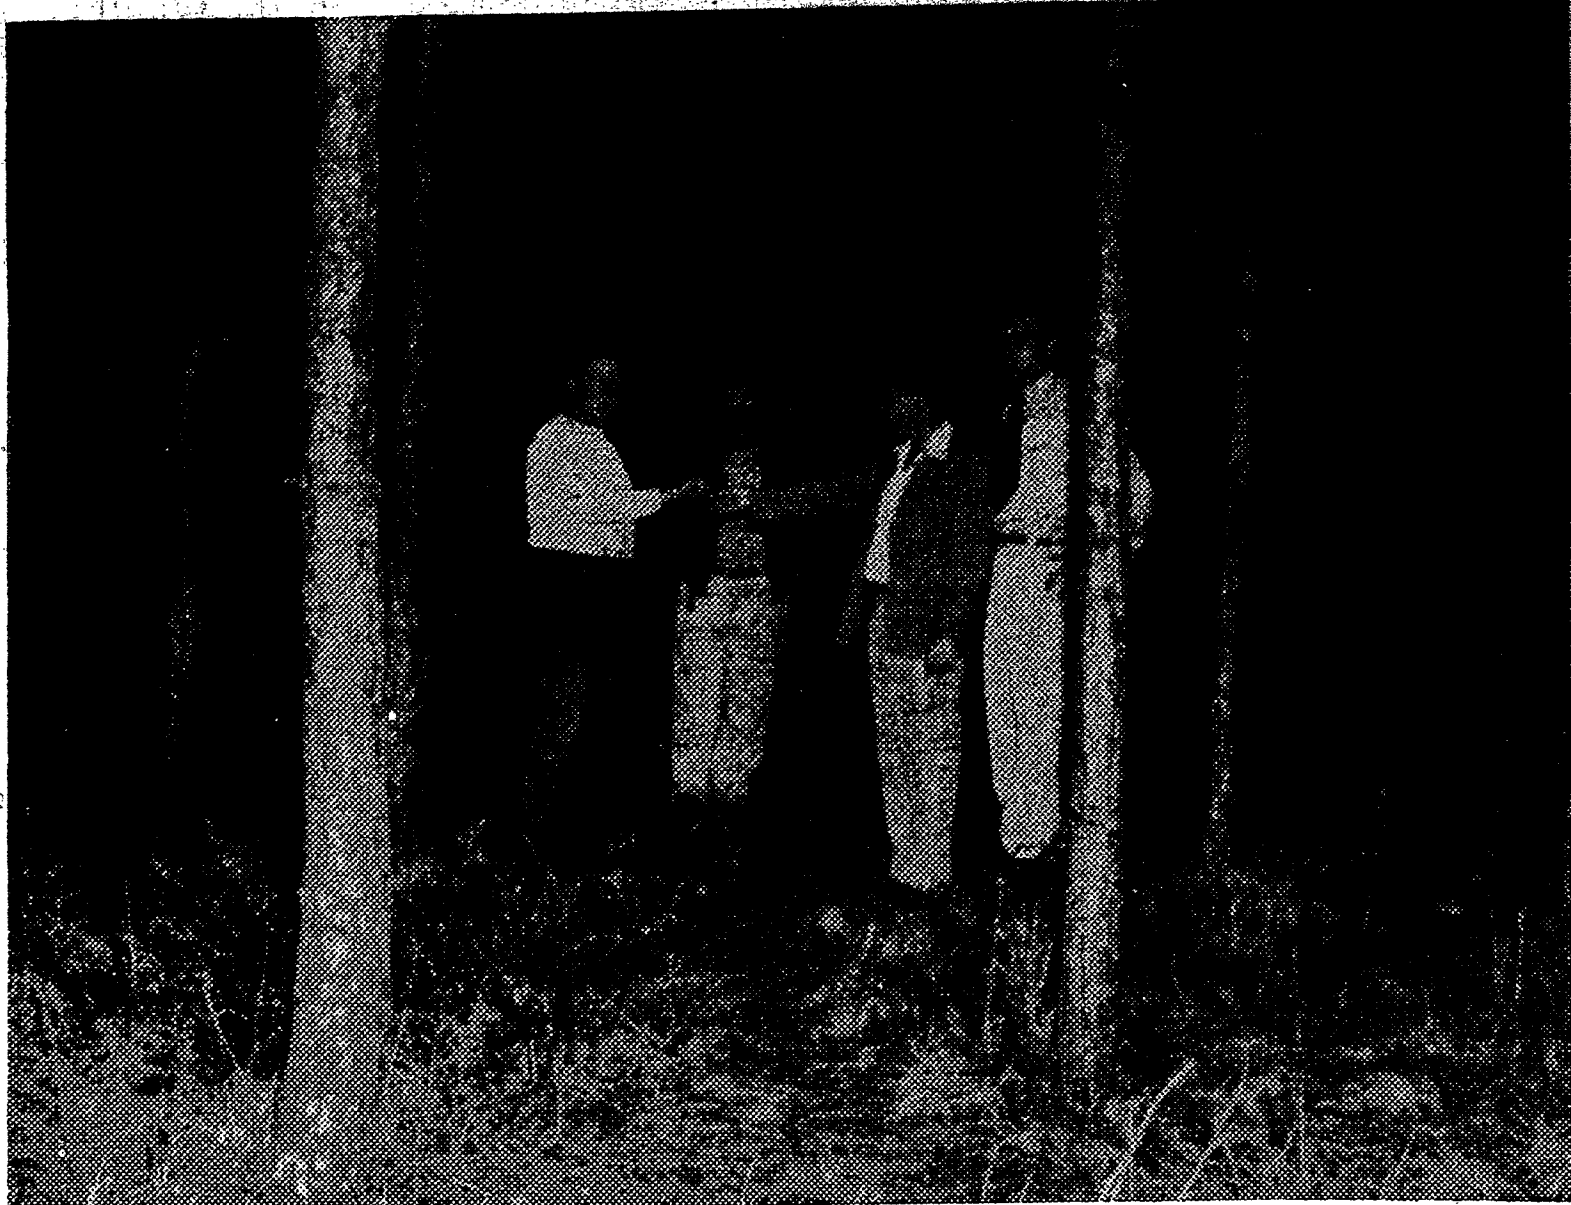

"Because of the rapid strides made in our economic system since World War II," Dr. Murphy said, "the type of education given to America's boys and girls must be what they are going to need to meet these changes. Teachers must be trained to meet this situation and give these boys and girls the type education changes demand. This is going to require better trained teachers. We have good teachers but we need better and more teachers," Dr. Murphy continued.

The speaker stated that there are 100 per cent of the grammar school age boys and girls attending educational institutions. Last year we had a million high school graduates, and in another decade we will have 1,250,000," he added.

"I can look into the future and see the changes in public school education but I cannot look far enough. I should like to live long enough to see all of the changes that will be made," Dr. Murphy continued.

To Bobby Clapp, went the trophy for outstanding scholastic and athletic record. Certificates were awarded to the following boys and girls: football: Marvin Dorr, Billy Clapp, Monvel Maskeve, Donald Peterson, Lionel Seliger, Billy Ray Bennett, John Ginn, Truman Poullion, Frank Godwin, Truman Schultz, Robert Boudreau, Bobby Clapp; basketball: Bobby Clapp, Chester Laddner, Donald Williams, Vernon Parker, John Laddner, Billy Murphy, Billy James; boxing: Donald Peterson, John Ginn, Truman Schultz, Terrell Randolph, John Peterson, Roland Soldine, Jimmy McArthur, Herman Price; girls basketball: Ruth Dawsey, Norma Johnson, Barbara Ann Burrow, Lois Stoufflet, Cherrie Ann Green, Kathryn Younger, June Breath, Betty Culppepper, Ann Hebert, Ann Jenkins, Marion Neil Breland; student activity Association: Irma Joan Lee, Shirley Fricke, Cecil McCaleb, Thelma Rouchon, Ruth Dawsey, Cherrie Ann Green, Genevieve Strong; Student Prints: Ruth Dawsey, Shirley Davis, Shirley Fricke, Gertrude Johnson, Cecil McCaleb, Helen Ruth Moran, Thelma Rouchon, Genevieve Strong, Irma Joan Lee, Clara Puchou, Mary Lou Seiana, Betty Jean Morris; band: Monvel Maskeve, Billy Ray Bennett, Vernon

Lee, who is shown in his stand of pine trees which he undertook as a 4-H project upon the death of his brother in 1943, was sponsored by the Bay-Wave land Garden Club to attend the Conservation school last year.

The medal he received is given for outstanding work. Lee's project was started by his brother before his death, and he now has a ten-acre tract of trees which were planted in the winter of 1939 and 1940.

Install Mrs. Bittner As President Of Coast Garden Club

Mrs. Eugene Mogabgab, Bay St. Louis, who has served as president of the Coast Council of Garden Clubs for two years, was succeeded by Mrs. Hyle Bittner, Acacia Garden Club, Biloxi, at the installation of officers Friday, April 6, at the Bay-Waveland Yacht Club.

Other officers installed by Mrs. Richard G. Cox, were Mrs. Dorothy McCall, Gulfport, record secretary; Mrs. Buford E. Berry, Biloxi, historian; Mrs. Earl Kirkpatrick, Bay St. Louis, parliamentarian; and Mrs. Hy Wolfe, Biloxi, auditor.

Mrs. Mogabgab read a resume of the Council's activities during her two-year regime, and among the highlights was the spring pilgrimage of last year. Following the reports, awards for scrap books were made by Mrs. Berry in the absence of Mrs. J. E. Wiggins, chairman of the scrap book committee. The Bay-Waveland Club, with Mrs. Ed. ward M. Heath Sr., won first place; second place, Irish Hill Garden Club, Biloxi; and third, Acacia Club.

The retiring president was presented with a national certificate as an accredited judge, making her the third accredited judge on the coast, by Mrs. George F. Stevenson, president of the local organization.

Mrs. Cox, wife of the former president of Gulf Park college, as guest speaker, used a toy wheelbarrow containing symbols to illustrate her talk on garden and gardeners.

According to Mrs. Cox the Bible symbolized the faith of the gardener to have a successful garden; the trowel, the symbol to dig and space the garden; a bottle of Hadaool, a tonic for the gardener, showing that gardens also need a tonic; a large black Rosary, with a cross symbolizing the cross gardeners must bear in their appointments as well as the hope of perseverance; a jar of sand, representing grit and stamina to produce a successful garden; band-aids to stick to the job and see it well done; a string of pearls representing purity and symbolizing purity of thinking among club members free of guile, envy and jealousy toward each other; a dictionary representing the seeking of knowledge in gardening; and an anchor symbolizing a weight, firm and strong in the clubs, ideals and aims.

Following the program, large white candles were given to the incoming officers and smaller ones to the members. These were lighted and the officers were introduced in the candlelight ceremony, after which the candles were held high and Mrs. Cox recited a prayer.

After the close of the meeting by Mrs. Brittner, a tea, with the Bay-Waveland Club and the Blue Jeans Garden Club of Clermont Harbor as hostesses, followed.

The first prize, a centerpiece for the tea table, was won by Mrs. Mary Belle Beeman of Biloxi; second prize, a banjo rubber plant was won by Mrs. H. C. Glover, Bay St. Louis; and third and fourth prizes of flower pots were won by Mrs. H. L. Wesner, of Clermont Harbor, and Mrs. T. C. McCall of Gulfport. A fifth prize was a mock orange tree, and the sixth was an African violet.

Prior to the meeting a luncheon, attended by Mesdames Mogabgab, Stevenson, Harry Swift, Thomas Adams, E. M. Heath, Sr., and J. W. Hill, Jr., was given for Mrs. Cox. Mrs. Mogabgab presented the guest of honor with a corsage of Spring flowers; and Mrs. Stevenson presented Mrs. Mogabgab a corsage of yellow jonquils.

Army Has New Openings In A S A

A limited number of openings exist for qualified young men in the Army Security Agency according to Major Frank Greco of the USA and USAF Recruiting Main Station in Jackson.

The Army Security Agency, known as ASA in Army circles, handles much of the Army's classified documents, transmits messages in code and works in cooperation with the Counter-Intelligence Corps in breaking coded messages of enemy agents or nations.

A special agent of the ASA will be at the recruiting office, Room 504, Post Office Building in Jackson from April 19-20 to interview interested applicants from Central and Southern Mississippi.

Sergeant B. B. Moore, Army and Air Force recruiting sergeant here in Bay St. Louis, has stated that he will interview and make an appointment with ASA agent in Jackson for anyone interested from this area.

He also added that the Army seldom offered an opportunity such as this for young men from civilian life.

For those who are selected, their first assignment will be Vint Hill Farms Station, Warrenton, Virginia, and later Carlisle Barracks, Pennsylvania, for the Army Security School.

Back in the early 1800's "Thar She Blows" was a familiar cry off the coast of New England. Hundreds of whaling ships roamed the seas, looking for whales to satisfy the nation's demand for oil.

But in 1859 Colonel E. L. Drake brought in the first oil well near Titusville, Pennsylvania. That ended the whaling business.

In its place has risen the petroleum industry, furnishing power to run America and a thousand and one products for modern day living.

In 1939 oil was discovered in Mississippi. Since then the industry has steadily expanded until today there are over 1,600 producing oil and gas wells in 44 fields.

Faith and confidence in Mississippi has encouraged the oil and gas industry to spend millions of dollars in the state in developing these resources.

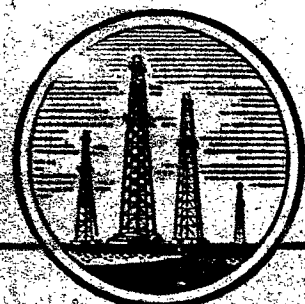

Mississippi's favorable attitude toward industrial development, evidenced by the spirit of cooperation between government and business and management and labor, together with fair taxes for all, has been an all-important factor in this development.

In such a friendly atmosphere the oil and gas industry will continue to expand, thereby furnishing more jobs for more people, more revenue for the state treasury and more opportunities and advantages for everyone.

This is important to you as a citizen because what helps the sound development of our oil and gas resources helps Mississippi and all Mississippians.

Fifty Cents A Day Adds Up To Million Dollar Industry

By Percy L. East

There seems to be a belief among the younger generation that pioneers in this nation have long since passed, inasmuch as names like Daniel Boone, George Rogers Clark, and Sam Dale make up the list. This is by no means true.

There is in Mississippi today a pioneer—a pioneer in every sense of the word—his name is Irvin Mack Beasley, owner and president of Beasley Packing Company of Jackson and Hattiesburg.

The Packing Company owned four million dollars in business a year; and the money spent by the company is spent in Mississippi—paid to Mississippi cat-men. But 32 years ago, when Mr. Beasley came to Mississippi from his native Kentucky, Mississippians bought and sold their beef and pork in St. Louis and Chicago. Today cattlemen in the state have a ready market for their products. Mr. Beasley pioneered in the field; cattlemen throughout the state are indebted to him.

The Beasley Packing Company, located in Hattiesburg, is housed in a plant which was built in 1947 at a cost of more than half a million dollars. Today there are over 90 employees on the plant payroll. They kill between 300 and 600 head of cattle, and between 600 and 1000 hogs each week.

The Jackson plant was built in 1947 also, at a cost of over $150,000. It now employs 20 workers. The Jackson branch is primarily a point of distribution; all the slaughtering is done at the Hattiesburg plant. The plants are as modern and up-to-date as any in the entire south.

It would appear that Mr. Beasley is a successful man, a man who has it made, so to speak. Well, that's true; but it has not always been so.

Mr. Beasley was born on a farm in Kentucky in 1880. His first job paid him 50¢ a day. He is a self-educated man, having quit school in the third grade. At 18 he was married, and by the time he reached 20 was well on the road up. He owned his own farm in Kentucky; he worked at 50¢ a day to buy it.

Here was a young man, hard working, just getting a start in life. Everything looked fine; the future seemed assured. But his house burned to the ground, ashes and charred wood—there was no insurance—it was a total loss. And then happened one of the kindest of human acts; his friends took up a collection and gave him. He received enough to build another house; the bank gave him all the credit he wanted. Then, to top off the generosity, his friends came from 40 miles around to help him build the new house. Mr. Beasley has never forgotten how kind people can be.

Shortly after that he went to Fulton, Kentucky, and went into the livery stable business; he went broke! But he was not broken in spirit, and that's what counts. After the livery failed, he went into the mule business. This finally expanded into a $100,000 enterprise.

It was 32 years ago that he went to Jackson, as he puts it, "to look around." He liked what he saw in Mississippi and stayed. The first thing he purchased was 100 acres of land in Rankin County. Today he has 3000 acres of land just north of Jackson; it is one of the state's outstanding stock farms. In Jackson, during the first visit, he probably set a record. In ten minutes Mr. Beasley decided to buy a stable for $3,000. Somehow, this is characteristic of him. He knows what he wants; he does not waste his time.

The mule business, with the advent of the automobile began to fall off. Mr. Beasley sold out, he then purchased the Jackson Vehicle Company. It was only a short time until buggies went with the mules. He began looking around for "something that would not go out of style."

On looking into the cattle business he found that the state had vast potentialities. Why not develop them? he asked. He began buying cattle, and found that they could not be sold in the state. It was necessary to ship them to St. Louis or Chicago to market. To the practical mind of Mr. Beasley this seemed a foolish thing to do. Why not kill them here and supply the local markets? He tried the venture, and found cooperation was lacking.

He then decided to put in about 15 markets in Jackson. Business was good; he succeeded. It was only a short time until he was able to buy a small cold storage plant. From that he built the Jackson Packing Company. He sold it in 1929 and moved to Memphis where he built what is now known as the Abraham Packing Company. Then came the black days of the depression. From the reverse he suffered in those days comes a classic Beasley remark. "I lacked $20,000 of having a quarter," he says.

To Mr. Beasley setbacks have always been experience, and experience is most certainly the stepping stone to eventual success. He paid back all the money he owed, built up auction sales barns, and started his own stock farm. While doing this, he opened up for the state of Mississippi a potential gold mine. Packing plants in the state have followed in his footsteps.

Today from a beginning that would have discouraged almost anyone, Mr. Beasley is able to see his adopted state grow to third place in the nation in the progress made in cattle raising and breeding. Today 90% of the state's beef cattle are white-faced—cattle that 20 years ago were unheard of in the state.

Farmers can now raise cattle and be assured of good markets in the state; they no longer need to ship their cattle to Chicago or St. Louis and have their profits taken by freight rates. They simply have to back a truck load of livestock up to Beasley's; he'll purchase them all.

Mr. Beasley has always tried to keep Mississippi's money in Mississippi. And as far as cattle raising and packing plants are concerned, he has succeeded.

In order to promote interest in livestock raising throughout the state, Mr. Beasley often purchases show cattle, paying upwards of 40¢ a pound. He cannot possibly make money like that. Often he loses as much as $2,000 on a buy of this kind. Even so, he is assuring 4-H club boys and girls, as well as others who are raising livestock, that for generations to come the state will have a good market for their products.

"Dean of Mississippi's Cattlemen" is a title handed Mr. Beasley by the state's cattlemen. He well deserves it, having pioneered in cattle raising and buying and in packing plants.

Mississippi is not the largest cattle raising state by any means, but if Irvin Mack Beasley stays around another 70 years it will be. And with the energy and vitality he has, it's entirely possible that he'll be around, too.

Mr. Beasley should be an inspiration to all the youth of the state. He is a man who started at 50¢ a day and now heads a million dollar business. He is indeed a perfect example of a man who had no fear of the future and hard work; he is a man who has not once doubted his friends—or himself. He is easy going—unpretentious—unafraid. He is an independent man—courageous. Never has he held an illusion about the world owing him anything. If anything is worth having, it's worth working for. And he cut his teeth on plain hard work.

Yes, the Beasley Packing Company is now a valuable, smooth running business in capable hands—a business of great importance in the state. But things for the man who runs it have not always been valuable and smooth running. Irvin Mack Beasley knew when he started that the life of a pioneer wasn't the easiest life one could choose. But, then, he had faith and vision; the heart of a true pioneer has always been his.

Logging It On TV

By JAY METZ

Our TV set split a gusset, blew a fuse, stripped a gear, sprung a leak, blew a gasket, ran out of gas, or else just plain gave up a couple of weeks ago. So, having nothing to see and criticize or commend, I had nothing to offer. Seems to me I should have had a mess of notes lying around of stuff not yet discussed, but I couldn't find any. Just didn't have any, to tell the truth.

When the set was first removed to the TV clinic for necessary diagnosis and corrective treatment, we all here really missed it. It's funny how one of these gadgets almost turns into a very necessary item. Unfortunately for us, the programs we first had to miss were those of Saturday and Sunday—the two very best days on television. We survived though.

So now, having been without a TV set for a week or so, I would say that it is a good thing. You ought to try it yourself. A different set of values have materialized. We used to watch some certain programs in the evening just because they were scheduled.

But not any more. We pick our spots, and enjoy only those programs that gave us enjoyment. Sorry, Woody, that lets you out except when we are confused and want to watch someone else in the same fix.

Something new recently added is the Seven-Up clock which shows up for a few seconds as one of the station attendants announces the time. This is a good thing, except that the ladies only come close. One evening one overworked station accessory said it was "four minutes and some odd seconds after a certain hour" when actually it was five minutes and those odd seconds after the hour. And last night, when the clock definitely showed that it was two minutes fifty seconds after the hour, the announcer said that it was three minutes after.

Now why should I quibble over that ten-second error? It is gone, and darned if I know what I did with it. But TV is different than radio. With radio, we could only hear and believe what was said. But with television, we are actually shown something and then told something different. Seems to me the FCC have certain regulations concerning such goings on.

Listened to the Youngstown Kitchen program the other night (I'm from that town) because we used to enjoy it. But what with Smiling Jack and Smiling Vi both filling up our screen with teeth, we are getting a little tired of the display. They'd make a wonderful ad for a tooth paste company.

MORE SIRUP PER ACRE FROM NEW SUGARCANE VARIETY

C. P. 36111 Released After Three Years of Testing at U. S. Field Station and Mississippi Branch Experiment Stations

State College, Miss.—A new variety of sugarcane which produces more sirup per acre has been developed by the Department of Agriculture and the Mississippi Experiment Station. The sugarcane, C. P. 36111, is also superior in several other respects to varieties now grown in the state.

In comparative field tests during the past three years at the U. S. Sugar Plant Field Station near Meridian and at Mississippi Branch Experiment Stations near Poplarville and Newton, C. P. 36111 has equalized, or surpassed C. P. 19116 in the production of sirup per ton of cane and per acre and in stubbing varieties. It has consistently produced sirup of high quality as judged for color, flavor and extent of sediments and crystallization.

shading the land and facilitating weed control. It makes an erect growth of tall straight stalks that do not lodge readily. The leaves are easily stripped from the stalks. The straight stalks are easy to mill.

The new variety has shown no important damage from mo-sais, red rot, or other diseases under Mississippi conditions. It has given the best comparative results on well drained bottom land at Meridian. Favorable yields have also been obtained on ridge land at Poplarville and on low, heavy land at Newton. The limited supply of seed available this year is being distributed through county agents, according to I. E. Stokes, agronomist at the Sugar Plant Field Station, Meridian. The increased supply of seed cane produced in 1951 will be available to farmers this fall.

A Calculating Kid—Skeeter!

Folks paying us friendly calls lately have been asking why the lights are on in the Clarion's office so late every night.

It was mystifying me, too, but yesterday young Skeeter Roberts, who helps out after school, owned up that he's been the culprit.

"I've been using Miss Clark's Calculating machine to double-check my math homework," explained Skeeter. "And I've been getting straight A's since. Well, that not only cleared up our little mystery, but also shows me that Skeeter is a lad who's going places."

IT HAPPENS EVERY DAY IN MISSISSIPPI

"I'll telephone Tomorrow!"

Today when it is everybody's duty to produce more of the things our nation needs, the rural telephone is more valuable than ever in helping to save time for Mr. Farmer and thus make his work more productive.

But Mrs. Farmer and all the young Farmers also benefit from the easier and more frequent social contacts provided by their rural telephone—and so it is a factor in helping to maintain essential morale during the emergency.

Yes, a lot more business and visiting, too, may be carried on over Mississippi's rural telephone system every day as Southern Bell carries on with its big rural expansion program in spite of the set-back in time and money caused by the recent ice-damage.

Just before the ice-storm struck we had reached a total of over 36,000 rural subscribers in Mississippi, or more than 4% times the 8,335 subscribers served by our rural lines on January 1, 1946. The cost of that 5-year program of rural expansion was more than 7% million dollars. But the demand for more rural telephones continues and Southern Bell plans to continue to expand and improve its rural facilities in Mississippi at the rate of approximately 2 million dollars a year or as fast as conditions permit!

JOURNEY INTO TOMORROW

Carried by stream or tide or wind, the seeds of a forest tree may travel many miles before they find a haven where they may begin their useful lives. Once they have rooted and sent their green sprouts searching for the sunlight, their mission becomes that of all trees—to serve man. Some serve through sheltering man and his possessions. Some give us food. Others serve their greatest purpose in the beauty they contribute to our lives. But most trees serve man through the production of a most essential commodity—wood.

Trees, like most growing things, come into the world to grow, mature and die, and in death are replaced by others of their kind to which they have given life. Because of this cycle—because forests replace themselves—the forest industries of America speak of "trees as a crop." They encourage private owners of forest lands to manage their trees for increased growth and improved quality. They support an educational program that is helping Americans to grow trees as a cash crop—to "tree farm" for wood.

Such a management plan calls for the harvesting of the inherent wealth of our timber lands while, through good forest practices, we grow new forests of trees for tomorrow.

Vegetable Meat Dinner

Broadcast: April 23, 1951

1 lb. meat, cut for stew
2 tablespoons flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
3 tablespoons shortening
2 tablespoons finely cut onion

2 1/2 cups boiling water
4 small potatoes, pared
4 medium carrots, cut in half
1 cup drained peas, cooked or canned
1/2 cup Pet Milk

Roll meat in mixture of flour, salt and pepper. Brown slowly in hot shortening. Add onion; cook slowly 5 min. Add water. Cover and cook over low heat 1 hour. Then add potatoes and carrots. Cover; cook 25 min., or until vegetables are tender. (There should be about 1/2 cup liquid left in pan; if not, add water.) Then stir in peas and milk. Heat until steaming hot, but do not boil.
